PRESS RELEASE

Governor Rosselló announces agreement with COFINA bondholders

(August 8, 2018 - Buenos Aires, Argentina) Governor of Puerto Rico Ricardo Rosselló announced that the Financial Oversight and Management Board for Puerto Rico (Oversight Board), as representative of the Puerto Rico Sales Tax Financing Corporation (COFINA, for its Spanish acronym) in the judicial process under Title III of the Federal Law PROMESA, the Government of Puerto Rico, and a substantial number of the COFINA bondholders reached an agreement in principle to restructure the debt of COFINA to terms that are aligned with the fiscal reality of Puerto Rico.

Rosselló said that “since the electoral campaign, my position has been that the debt of Puerto Rico has to be reduced to terms that we can pay, in face of the fiscal crisis of the Island due to mistaken decisions of the past. The public policy of my Administration has always been to reach consensual agreements with our creditors that do not affect the services that the Government provides to the most vulnerable.”

The agreement in principle represents a reduction in the aggregate debt of COFINA of approximately one third of the COFINA debt, savings of $17.5 billion in future debt service payments, and provides terms and conditions for the restructuring of the debt. The agreement in principle is also consistent with the agreement between the agents of COFINA and the Central Government in the Title III proceedings announced in June 2018. It is anticipated that this agreement will provide a path towards a consensual plan of adjustment for COFINA.

“This agreement represents a significant step in restructuring Puerto Rico’s debt and reaffirms once again the credibility of our efforts. It joins the agreements that we have already reached with the bondholders of the Government Development Bank and those of the Puerto Rico Electric Power Authority. Moreover, these agreements are an important step to recover access to capital markets,” said the governor.

Christian Sobrino, executive director of the Puerto Rico Fiscal Agency and Financial Advisory Authority (AAFAF, for its Spanish acronym), informed that this agreement will provide the Government of Puerto Rico access to $425 million annually, on average, for the next 40 years.

“This agreement in principle with the COFINA bondholders advances the best interests of all parties involved, including the Government of Puerto Rico and the local bondholders. It also limits the costs of litigation and safeguards that the Government has the necessary funds to continue providing services to the People of Puerto Rico,” concluded Sobrino Vega.

PRESS RELEASE

OVERSIGHT BOARD REACHES DEAL WITH COFINA BONDHOLDERS

Proposed COFINA Bondholders Agreement to save Puerto Rico over $17 billion

(San Juan, PR – August 8, 2018)– The Financial Oversight and Management Board for Puerto Rico (the “Oversight Board”), created by Congress under the bipartisan Puerto Rico Oversight, Management and Economic Stability Act (“PROMESA” or the “Act”), and the Government of Puerto Rico today announced that they have reached a deal with Senior and Junior COFINA bondholders and monoline insurers on the economic treatment of COFINA bondholders and on the terms of new COFINA securities. The Board expects this deal to lead to a consensual plan of adjustment for COFINA and represents a significant milestone in resolving Puerto Rico’s debt crisis.

“Our objective has been to achieve a debt restructuring agreement with all COFINA parties consistent with the agreement in principle reached by the agents for the COFINA and Commonwealth, the terms of which were announced on June 7, 2018, and we believe this agreement has honored that goal,” said Natalie Jaresko, Executive Director of the Oversight Board. “Moreover, this consensual deal with all COFINA bondholders proves both the Board’s and Government’s commitment to reaching consensual agreements to Puerto Rico’s debt wherever possible. We do want to thank the appointed federal judge mediators whose tireless efforts were essential to the constructive negotiation process we had with the COFINA bondholders, as well as the Ad Hoc Group of Senior bondholders, monolines insurers and other bondholders, who played an important role to create an acceptable consensual plan.”

The deal provides for more than a 32% reduction in COFINA debt, gives Puerto Rico approximately $17.5 billion in debt service savings, avoids additional costly and time consuming litigation, enables local retail bondholders in Puerto Rico to receive a significant recovery, and provides flexibility to the Commonwealth in managing future debt refinancing, while avoiding the liquidity based borrowings that contributed to the current crisis.

“We welcome this agreement which represents a big step forward to achieving PROMESA’s mandates and continuing to restructure responsibly Puerto Rico’s debt in a sustainable way. We look forward to furthering these efforts with all creditors,” Jaresko added.

A copy of the final presentation of terms delivered to creditors in mediation is available on the Oversight Board’s website at www.oversightboard.pr.gov and will be filed on EMMA.
